A Project Based Approach

We are focusing our 2015 Clean and Green Sustainability Conference and Expo on project based presentations. We will showcase multiple projects in each region and in the process understand the specific values individual solutions can bring, how to design with them; and other key aspects of creating a successful project. In some cases, we will be working with multiple solutions on the same project. As in past years, experts in their fields will participate in our exhibit hall and be available to answer questions, offer assistance, etc. We are excited about our content this year and our focus on successful projects and solutions. We hope you will attend!!
