

Project Profile

Project Name: Lamb Residence
Owner: Todd & Lisa
Location: Greenfield, Iowa
Designer: Brad Bellis (see design layout)
Contractor/Installer: McMorran Landscaping

Install Date: October to present

Products Used: 1500 square face feet of Castlewood Ledge Rock natural stone outcropping (9 truckloads-216 tons).
Installing spring 2015-1000 square feet of County Pavers (Destination & Milestone style)

Project Scope: The goal for this project was to create a walkout basement for a new addition being constructed. With a large side yard to work with and minimal elevation change, we had to lengthen the walls and remove about 1600 tons (100 truckloads) of dirt to create enough cut outs for the walls. This in turn gave the homeowners a larger space to add a patio and yard at that walkout level.

Product Benefit: The biggest benefit to using this large stone was the weight of the stone (avg. 3800 lbs.). It helped us to avoid any reinforcement issues we may have encountered with using a modular block system. This was huge because we were limited in space up by the house.

Conclusion: After speaking with the owner and showing them examples of this stone installed, the owners were excited to see a product that would help soften the look of these large walls from the adjacent street. The stone created a more natural look to the project and complimented the new addition layout and house colors very well.
